South Kaipara

Off-Leash Dog Exercise and Agility Park

South Kaipara Rotary Club recently invited the local community to submit project ideas for community benefit that the club could help initiate and lead.

Ideas consideration factors were focused on scope of community benefit, potential for active involvement in the project design and implementation by the community and local businesses, ongoing maintenance requirements and high levels of community usage post completion.

One idea that received a positive response from club members was the creation of a safe and secure fenced area to allow for the exercise of off-leash dogs, including the option of installing dog agility equipment. Nearest similar ones are in place at Corban Reserve Henderson Valley (<https://www.stuff.co.nz/auckland/local-news/western-leader/74211361/dog-agility-course-to-open-in-henderson>) and further afield in Whangarei (<https://www.whangarei.co.nz/news/dog-agility-park-whangarei>)

The creation of the park would require fencing with gated access for dog owners and enough space for the addition of small wooden structures, concrete tubes etc. to enable agility type training/fun for our four-legged friends. Some location options are already on the table and depending on the community response to this idea will be pursued with more diligence.

South Kaipara Rotary Club are keen to lead this project and engage with the Rodney Local Board, community and businesses for input, fundraising and sponsorship opportunities through to completion of the park.

Initial feedback from the Rodney Local Board has been Students at Helensville Primary using the dictionaries recently donated by South Kaipara Rotary. This was part of the programme they have run for the last 4 years providing year 3 and 4 students with their own dictionaries. As so many students now use online dictionaries they propose to provide only classroom dictionaries next year so students can be taught how to use dictionaries at the discretion of their teacher.

encouraging, however their sound advice before we get too carried away is to first gauge the level of community support for the idea.

The club is now reaching out through community publications and social media for feedback on the idea and inviting people to email any feedback to southkaipararotary@gmail.com.

The Dog Agility Park at Whangarei, situated on Dave Culham Drive in central Whangarei. Owners and their dogs enter through secure gates into a fully fenced secure enclosure with six different "dog structures" to entertain and exercise their dog. A place where owners meet new owners, and dogs meet new dogs!

Brain drain budget

The Government's 2022 Budget delivered an expensive reminder to Kiwis that Labour has no idea how to make New Zealand an attractive place to live, work and raise a family.

Budget 2022 reveals Labour's plans to hire battalions of staff and consultants to produce hundreds of climate strategy papers, a new set of national planning rules to replace the RMA, and plan for a light rail project announced by the Prime Minister in 2017.

The first light rail stage to Mount Roskill was supposed to open in 2021. Labour Ministers don't even have a photo with a shovel, although $100 million has been spent already.

The 2022 Budget made it clear, that for a Kiwi on the average wage around $70,000 per annum, if you work hard and save hard, the best you can hope for is a $350 welfare payment. And if you happen to be earning more than $70,000 you get diddly squat.

With annual consumer price inflation now at 6.9 percent according to Statistics NZ, inflation would gobble up an extra $4,830 of that average wage on increased living costs. That means the average wage earner has effectively had a massive pay cut under Labour.

Households facing a cost of living crisis will economise, cut back on luxuries and try to make ends meet. Businesses will look for any way to make their operations more efficient to stay competitive and profitable.

In contrast, the Labour Government had added another $6 billion to their baseline spending in the 2022 Budget. Having already added 14,000 additional public servants since 2017 to deliver their policies, now they are going for broke, literally.

What does this Budget mean for the average wage and salary earner, someone with skills and experience? New Zealand may not be the best place for you and your family right now. That is why ACT calls this the Brain Drain Budget.

Compared to our closest neighbour Australia where wages have increased $6,600 over the past four years, Kiwi workers are getting poorer. House prices are on average more than $200,000 higher and rents have gone up $50 per week since when Labour was elected to govern alone in 2020.

The RMA is no closer to being fixed. Over 800 land use and subdivision consent applications were sitting unopened in Auckland Councils inbox in February 2022. Now ports, quarries and even sand for concrete are having consents declined. It has gotten much harder and more expensive to build.

Kiwis already pay for their carbon emissions through the Emissions Trading Scheme, around 20 cents per litre on petrol and diesel. Yet Labour want to save Kiwis from the climate by spending $569 million on paying cash to scrap used cars. The scheme will cost taxpayers $12,800 to scrap a car, when a simple google search will show you that it could cost as little as $100 per car right now.

ACT has one question about this Budget - what is the strategy to overcome our declining living standards? Labour has no answer.

ACT would start by cutting the number of civil servants by 14,000 back to 2017 levels, without cutting frontline health, education or police service. ACT would cut the demographic Ministries which deliver nothing for the communities they are meant to serve, only photo ops for Ministers.

The savings set out in the ACT Alternative Budget would deliver a worker on 70,000 per annum a tax cut of $2,300 per year.

ACT would scrap the expensive and totally unnecessary greenwashing climate schemes which won't reduce emissions any more than the existing cap under Emissions Trading Scheme allows for. ACT would instead give Kiwis a $250 per person per year carbon tax refund from the billions raised by the ETS, around $1000 for a family of four. Giving Kiwis the option to spend that money on transport or energy seems much fairer than handing it out to select businesses in exchange for a photo op with a Labour or Green Minister.

ACT believes we can reverse the brain drain that is coming, but only by delivering a healthy economy and thriving communities. The ACT Alternative Budget shows how we can get there.

‘Hope Project’

by Pauline Denton

Something we all need in the midst of war and pandemic. But where can hope be found? Over Easter 1,500 leaflets were delivered in Helensville and Parakai with a message of ‘Hope For All’. These little booklets have stories of people who have found hope through the message of good news bought through Jesus Christ.

Helensville’s new Maori Anglican minister, Jacynthia Murphy, was amongst those delivering leaflets. Jacynthia lives out her kaupapa in serving the community and points to the principles of faith, whakapono, hope, tūmanako and love, aroha which are embedded in the Maori culture.

She says: “When we talk about hope tūmanako we have a holistic view of wellness, hope and faith. Hope at a grassroots level, some people don’t want to hear about God, but that doesn’t mean the God isn’t at work.

People will seek a minister to do a blessing when they need a power beyond themselves. So people are always looking for hope and some people have more faith in finding hope in the midst of turmoil than others. There is always a hope that someone will get well if they’re ill or if there is a family rift.

Hope comes in many forms, not just a booklet. We must all be involved in encouraging people to have hope.”

If you want to know more about this message of hope then please contact any of the following:

BOT Student Representative election

by Georgia Shivan, Year 13 Student, Kaipara College

Harrison McCarthy, a Year 12 student, has been elected as Kaipara College's student representative on the Board of Trustees (BOT) for the 2022 school year. The Board of Trustees – composed of community members, staff, and parents – establishes a vision for Kaipara College, is accountable for student achievement, and ensures the school complies with legal and policy requirements. Harrison's role as the student representative is to listen to, collate, and communicate the views of the Kaipara College student body to the Board.

Harrison McCarthy
(Year 12)

This representation allows the school to be guided in a direction that benefits its students.

Typically, annual elections for the student representative take place in September, and the student takes office shortly after. However, due to lockdown and school closure in late 2021, voting did not begin until April. Candidates had the opportunity to self-nominate and present their intentions for the role at online school assemblies and in a short blurb. Students received voting forms to complete during the subsequent weeks, and the election result was declared at the beginning of Term 2. Because of this delay, Harrison will be in office for a shortened period of six months.

Harrison's primary focus as the acting student representative is to amply represent his peers and maintain transparency with students about the Board's role in the school and what they achieve. He states that he has a "bottom-up rather than top-down" approach to his role – valuing student collaboration and feedback in decision-making processes rather than stipulating outcomes that will filter down to students.

Currently, Harrison is developing a system where students can anonymously submit concerns they have encountered around the school and any potential solutions to be put forward to the Board.

Harrison also plans to work with other student-led groups in the school – such as the student leaders and Peer Sexuality Support Program (PSSP) – to help identify and resolve concerns in the school. The reach of such groups often extends to a broad and diverse community of students and can, therefore, involve more pupils in the active improvement of their school.

Harrison attended his first Board meeting in early May and will join subsequent monthly meetings – and quarterly curriculum meetings – until the election of a new student representative in September. Harrison's passion for making positive change in communities also extends to his career path, where he plans to pursue law after finishing high school next year.

Parent Aid North West are proud to be celebrating their 20th year in operation.

Our organisation was initially started in 2002 by a group of local women based in the Helensville area that recognised the need for support for parents with babies and children under 5 years of age.

As you can imagine, the scope of Parent Aid North West service has broadened and evolved over this time, but essentially we are still delivering a similar service. We estimate we have helped more than 2000 families over the past 20 years.

To celebrate this milestone birthday, Parent Aid North West are launching our $20 for 20 years campaign and asking people to donate $20 through their Givealittle Page. While the amount is reflective of $1 for each year in service, we are also mindful that over the past 2 years both individuals and businesses have seen reduced incomes and increased financial costs.

Parent Aid North West provides free practical home help to whanau with babies and children under 5 years old within the North West Rodney region. Our focus is addressing the needs of parents that are experiencing postnatal depression, anxiety and stress, sleep deprivation, accident, illness, rural isolation or general hardship.

We assist with household duties, meal preparation, child care, food parcel delivery and can help with transport so that parents can attend medical and well-being appointments.

Parent Aid North West is a Not for Profit Charitable organisation that operates by way of grants, funding and donations. Currently, we do not receive any direct government funding.

We have 8 paid part-time employees who are all mothers themselves and hale from various backgrounds involved around childcare.

All our Home Support Workers understand that each client's needs will be different and are incredibly passionate about helping families in our community.

When you are able to assist parents at times of need, ultimately it is to the children's benefit. It is so important for us as an organisation to be equally just as proactive as we are reactive.

We hope by having 500 people donate just $20 each we will raise $10,000 which will go towards our team being available to assist more families in our community over the next year and for many years to come.

Kaipara korero

Principal Cindy Sullivan

Just when you thought we have things on an even keel and teaching and learning can progress as we would expect at school, along comes the uptick in COVID-19 community cases. This has hit us hard here at Kaipara College with many of our staff contracting the virus over a short period of time and about 25% of our student body also affected. We were left no alternative but to move the whole school into learning from home mode. To their great credit our wonderful students were able to move relatively quickly and seamlessly into learning from home with the support of their whānau. Each time we do this it seems to get a little bit easier and our students settle into their new routine more quickly. There is no doubt however that learning from home is more difficult for many of our students as motivation wanes more easily, distractions become more enticing and even doing work around the house can become an attractive option! It is heartening to see our online attendance increase everyday however, which may or may not have been influenced by a message from our Head Students reminding our seniors that attendance at the School Ball is dependent on having good attendance at school (including online school)! I would like to thank our community for their continued patience and support as we navigate these tricky times. Thank you also to those who give us feedback on what we do. We value feedback because it helps us in our quest for continual improvement.

I am happy to say that sports and other events have continued while we have been learning from home. Even though I have been unable to attend any recent games (due to, you guessed it, COVID) I have been impressed by the continued reports of the outstanding sportspersonship our students continue to show on the field, court and arena. The result of a game or event is important but so too are the teamwork, communication, commitment, collaboration, effort, perseverance, being open to learning, listening, striving for improvement, effort and fitness required to participate well. I am proud of the way our students conduct themselves both on and off the field or court or arena, and watching them play is a great pleasure. These days, as our parents and caregivers would attest to, sport is not just a weekend endeavour however, with many practices, games and events occurring throughout the week. This would not happen without the great commitment from families, coaches and teachers who give freely of their time, energy and expertise to allow our students the opportunity of the thrill of playing a sport. Thank you to those people, from all of us at Kaipara College.

We have many exciting events coming up at school over the next little while including our annual Open Evening on Monday, 20

June commencing at 6:30pm, where we showcase the great learning experiences that happen at school, to the community and in particular intermediate age students and their families. We are open for enrollments for 2023 from that time. I am also looking forward to attending our So despite the challenges the gift of COVID keeps on giving, Kaipara College is in great shape and is looking forward to continuing to celebrate and share our learning journey and successes with our community.

I look forward to meeting many of you out and about in the community supporting Kaipara College sporting and cultural events.

If you would like more frequent information about the great things happening at Kaipara College, please follow our Facebook and Instagram accounts. Search 'Kaipara College' for our official pages on both platforms.

Councillor claims rate distribution “unfair”

by Cr Greg Sayers, Councillor for the Rodney ward

Rodney’s rural communities, such as Helensville, continue to be discriminated against when it comes to equitably allocating infrastructure budgets across Auckland.

Rural residential households pay a comparable amount in overall rates, but rural households are not receiving their fair proportion of infrastructure investment.

The Helensville township is a rural township receiving water, storm water and sewage services. However, it often feels like the “poor cousin” with the footpaths and other public facilities not being up to the same standards as Auckland’s other urban centres, although it was encouraging to see some recent roading upgrades from Auckland Transport.

The rural community makes up half of the population in Rodney and pays half of the rates, yet receives zero council services in terms of fresh water supply, sewage treatment services, footpaths or bus services on the unsealed roading network.

The primary council investment back into the rural communities is through Auckland Transport via maintaining the unsealed roading network.

A sum of $5.6 million a year is spent on maintaining the unsealed roading network.

This is inadequate.

Due to population growth and increased traffic volumes, a number of roads are now unsafe to remain gravel roads.

I have called for $12.4 million a year to be allocated to sealing and permanently upgrading the rural roads.

Not all of Rodney’s roads need sealing. However, many meet the criteria to be sealed and are only being deferred due to a lack of budget.

The day-to-day maintenance budgets, dealing with problems such as potholes and grading, also needs to be increased as these were last reviewed more than three years ago.

There is adequate money being collected from rural households, nevertheless an unfair proportion is being directed away from rural community needs and into urban-focused footpaths, cycleways and bus services. There needs to be a fair balance between urban and rural infrastructure investment.

Auckland Council was unable to provide me a breakdown of the amount of Regional Fuel Taxes or Development Contributions collected from the Rodney ward. Watercare collects separate water fees for investment into fresh water and waste water infrastructure.

CHRIS PENK – MP

It's likely that many of you reading this column fall into what we call the "squeezed middle" of New Zealand. This essentially represents a total household income of around $110,000, made up of middle income earners with a family of two-and-a-bit children(!) on average.

At a time when we're seeing record high rents, escalating petrol prices and eye-watering costs at the supermarket, Kiwis are now being told to brace ourselves for more pain to come with the average household expected to be $150 per week worse off by the end of the year. Inflation is also pushing everyone into higher tax brackets. Despite this, at time of writing we're expecting a big Beehive splash out with a record new spend of $6 billion in this year's Budget.

Unfortunately, there isn't any much relief for the squeezed middle in prospect. Recent increases to the minimum wage and benefit payments don't generally apply to this group, so changes like these tend not to make life much better for them. The uber-wealthy are still smooth-sailing, of course, typically being able to structure their affairs in the most tax-efficient way. They possibly won't even have noticed that we have a cost of living crisis. But for those of you in the squeezed middle it's all too real and the message from Wellington seems to be that you'll simply have to struggle on.

On my side of the aisle, we're saying that's not good enough. National would adjust the tax brackets for inflation so that Kiwis can keep more of what they earn and receive some desperately needed relief in their pockets. Our initial tax response would put $1,600 back into the average household budget per year and superannuitants would benefit too, with a retired couple receiving around an additional $520. In case you're wondering, we wouldn't cut essential services like health, education or the police to deliver these tax cuts, but rather ensure the funding we do invest actually delivers real outcomes for New Zealanders, including the long-suffering and oft-forgotten squeezed middle.

Native Tree Planting Workshop

Saturday 25th June (9.30am to 11.30am)

Because of an increasing focus in recent years on retaining and increasing the prevalence of NZ native flora and fauna, many households have started to plant native trees in preference to the large number of imported species which have prevailed over many decades.

However to ensure as rapid a growth as possible as well as the ongoing health of these wonderful plants it's important to understand best locations and soil types for each variant as well as how to plant and care for them.

David Bayly, our resident expert, will be presenting a "walking" workshop where he will guide you along our nature trail highlighting recent and older plantings of various species. Thus giving a "real world" indication of what can be achieved plus offering tips to help ensure success as well as answer any questions you have.

Please note that sturdy footwear and a suitable jacket are definitely recommended. Also places are limited so booking via our email address (info@kaiparacoast.co.nz) is also definitely recommended.

After the workshop you can stroll through our beautiful, recently extended 3.5Km nature trail which contains over 40 marvelloussculptures created for our 2022 exhibition by local and international artists on display.*

We also have our cute little coffee shop on site plus of course the Plant Centre for you to browse through.

Our knowledgeable and friendly staff will also be on hand to help with any garden related questions.

* The trail is unfortunately not suitable for wheelchairs or walking frames; additional entry charge applies.

Art Centre Helensville

June Newsletter

As a part of Auckland Festival of Photography (who have themed this annual event 'Disruption'), Helensville Art Centre is holding a group show of local photography artists titled 'Disruption Through an Internal Lens'. This will be our first Awards exhibition with the winner receiving $250 cash prize. A guest judge will be selecting the winner which will be announced at the opening.

The term 'Disruption' embodies various associations, physical, environmental, political and mental.

Our exhibition for this year's Festival of Photography 'Disruption, Through the Internal Lens' implies the affects disruption has on our mental state. The internal world of the human condition is expansive and undisclosed. Life's disruptions can perturb our inner selves altering our subsequent physical demeanour.

Imagery in this exhibition connote to a psychological variation of the theme Disruption.

All were welcome to the opening and awards event on 3rd June. It featured image 'Secret Life of the Easter Bunny,' by Victoria Logan, Stellanova Photography.

Matariki follows Festival of Photography with an exhibition in July. We invite all local artists to participate in this important cultural event. Artists can either enter to exhibit in our main gallery with artwork representing Matariki, or in our media room gallery which will be an installation of stars. For those of you who delve in crafts this is an ideal way to display your artistic talent. Stars can take on any media, from crochet to painting, sculpture, photography, knitting, collage or even jewellery! Please email manager@artcentrehelensville.org.nz, or visit our website under events for entry form and details.

We will be running a Star Making workshop with Jo Dixey on Saturday 25th of June 10-1 to mark Matariki Festival. Jo will be using quilting methods to make Matariki stars. These will be included in the media room installation for the exhibition in July. Please email if you would like to book this workshop or if you would like an entry form for the Matariki exhibition open to all artists.

'A time for communities to come together and celebrate'

Exhibition dates are 1st - 30th July.

Nau Mai Haere Mai

In August we have two separate exhibitions, Cindy Vida who will be occupying the Main Gallery, and Thomas Hogan in the Media Room. Keep an eye out on our Facebook page for details and opening dates.
